STEVEN SATTERFIELD, MILLER UNION

Sixteen months ago, it was mostly industry insiders praising Steven Satterfield for his work as Watershed's executive sous chef. But when he stepped onto center stage as co-owner and executive chef of Miller Union, our 2010 Restaurant of the Year, the public accolades came swiftly and steadily. Diners connected with Satterfield's poetically simple, Southern-inflected cooking: braised rabbit over creamed turnips; grilled mountain trout with bacon, local potatoes, and Vidalia onion vinaigrette. We're betting these are only early tastes of the master that this forty-one-year-old will eventually become. 999 Brady Avenue, 678-733-8550, millerunion.com
